

Lonely Girl (Carabine/ Walther)

She wears her body, like a lifetime achievement
It fills the silence, when she doesn't know the words
And he is working, on his lifetime achievement,
But all they want is to be instantly, intimate

You've got no mother, when you're dressed up for strangers
You keep pretending, that you never feel the pain
And he holds his lovers, like they're quarters for payphones
They fill the silence, and he doesn't even know their names

But I'm a lonely girl, na na na na
And I could change the world, and everything I am
But I'd rather be alone, than someone that you take home

Well the world adores you, for the man you have sold them
It fills the silence, when you can't believe your name
But I'm not your witness; I won't answer your questions
You're just a lonely man who needs someone to blame

But I'm a lonely girl, na na na na
And I could change the world, and everything I am
But I'd rather be alone, than someone...

And I know the feeling, when love is a stranger
And you've never been in such beautiful danger,
And I know the feeling, when love is a stranger
And you've never been in such beautiful danger

I'm a lonely girl, na na na na
And I could change the world, and everything I am
Yeah, I'm a lonely girl, na na na na
And I could change the world, and everything I am
But I'd rather be alone, than someone that you take home

Alive

(Carabine/ Walther/ MikeRoth)

It's New Year's Eve and you know who you love
You can call him all night but he won't pick up
I danced in the snow and I sang to the stars
'Cause we lost our power just to find our hearts
You gotta lose your power to find your heart

We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
And we are here

I drove all night with a car full of friends
And someone in the back said "Where does Canada end?"
My mother took a plane in her nineteenth year
Just someone else's dream, that's why I'm here
Just someone else's dream, that's why we're here

We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
And we are here, we are here

All the things you ever had Hide and seek, your mom and dad
The car, the park, your broken heart
Your brother locked out after dark
The things we lose, the things we keep
I remember Sauble Beach
Now you're the song and I will sing
'Cause I remember everything

I grew up on the first of July
Just waiting for the light of a firework sky
And the world stood still when your eyes lit up

I will never get old 'cause I feel so young
We will never get old when we feel this young

We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
And we are here,

We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
We're alive, alive
And we are fearless
And we are here, we are here

CRUSHED

(Carabine/ Walther/ MikeRoth)

It's someone else's wedding, and I'm always ten rows back
Trying to believe in, the love I've never had

You could be the feeling,
That I don't know I need
'Cause I have heard you singing,
To someone out of reach

There's something about surrender
That a foolish heart can trust
And I can't lift the weight of the world without love,
I'm crushed

I'm never really happy,
So someone else decides
And I'm out here on your doorstep
Too scared to go inside

There's something about surrender
That a foolish heart can trust
And I can't lift the weight of the world without love,
I'm crushed, I'm crushed

I wonder who, and I wonder why
I wonder who, and I wonder why
Why...

I met you at my wedding,
You were only ten rows back...

There's nothing about surrender,
That a foolish heart can trust
And I can't lift the weight of the world without love

There's something about surrender
That a foolish heart can trust
And I can't lift the weight of the world without love,
I'm crushed, I'm crushed, I'm crushed

Levi Blues
(Carabine/ Walther/ MikeRoth)

I've been waiting for a guy like you
You've been waiting to be my guy too
I'll go to Paris see the lovers in the park
Try California walk the beaches in the dark
I'll see the world in my Levi Blues,
But I'll always come back, I'll always come back, to you

I've been waiting for a guy like you
You've been waiting to be my guy too
I'll go to China write "I Love You" on the Wall
And maybe London, catch a show at Albert Hall
I'll see the world in my Levi Blues,
But I'll always come back, I'll always come back, to you
I'll always come back, to you

He loves me, he loves me not....
Yeah yeah yeah
Yeah yeah yeah

I've been waiting for a guy like you
You've been waiting to be my guy too
In the Big Apple, where we both can take a bite
We'll have to hurry, 'cause we always miss our flight
We'll see the world in our Levi Blues
'Cause I always come back, I always come back, to you

He loves me, he loves me not....
Yeah yeah yeah

Horses
(Carabine/ Walther/ MikeRoth)

I am the boy who won't let go
I live in my head and I don't look like my photos
And I hate the sound of the world outside
'Cause everybody coming here can't wait to say goodbye

I followed your car to my childhood home
And I looked for the key hidden under the stone
And I still hear the sound in my father's voice
When he lifts me up like I'm a little boy

And I saw horses from my window
They were watching all the cars go

And they don't care that I am broken
Close my eyes and run beside them

'Cause I'm already free
I'm already free
So don't look for me here,
'cause I run in my dreams

I am the girl who won't let go
I live in my house and I don't like my photos
And I hate the sound of the world outside
And I still haven't found my place to hide

And I saw horses from my window
They were watching all the cars go
And they don't care that I am broken
Close my eyes and run beside them

I saw horses from my window
They were watching all the cars go
And they don't care that I am broken
Close my eyes and run beside them

Through the valleys and the pastures
And I know you'll never find me

'Cause I'm already free
I'm already free

So don't look for me here,
Don't look for me here
'cause I run in my dream
In my dreams

Compass
(Carabine/ Walther)

Keep what you can 'cause one day a man will appear
With words you believe and eyes that make it clear
Don't be the one to pull your hand away
'Cause you know what the others will say

Head north, head north

There's too much of you on the pages you lock in your room
But it's better to bend than to break where they can see you
And you used to look up when you lay in your bed at night
I'm glad you've closed your eyes without a fight

Head north, head north

I am the one who can dress up every disease
So don't be afraid you can always count on me

Head north, head north

Northern Lights (Carabine/ Walther)

I saw the world through Northern eyes
La la la, la la la la

She's got a French last name and a homemade hula hoop
Laughing outside on a summer night with nothing else to do
Everyone is waiting for their fame
But the kid inside is satisfied, just to stay up late

La la la, la la la la

The party's rolling like a movie set,
And I'm feeling sentimental for what hasn't happened yet
Everyone is older than their dream
And I could be on the payroll but I'm where I want to be

And it's one more night without you

Just one more night without you
I can't see the Northern lights, just by wishing it were true
One more night without...

La la la, la la la la
La la la, la la la la

I'm writing my confessions in the sand
Out here, somewhere in between a mountain and a man
Everyone lines up for something new
But all the stars are falling in the darkness of their rooms

And it's one more night without you
Just one more night without you
I can't see the Northern lights, just by wishing it were true
One more night ...

I saw the world through Northern eyes
I stood before the fire light
And I know there's so much more that I
Could be

I always fall in love from far away
'Cause everyone is someone, when they're lit up on a stage

And it's one more night without you
Just one more night without you
I can't see the Northern lights, just by wishing it were true
One more night without you

La la la, la la la la
I saw the world through Northern eyes

Face In The Morning

(Walther)

Face in the morning, I'm glad that you stayed
I wish I had something, impressive to say
But I'm just a crazy girl waiting to smile
And you've just been waiting for me

If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on

I love to make promises, when you're asleep
But I can't remember, which ones to keep
You stare at the stars, while I water the flowers
Will you be waiting for me?

If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on
I could be happy with myself
If I could just, hold on

Younger

(Carabine/ Walther/ MikeRoth)

It doesn't seem that far, between now and then
But every sentence starts, with "I remember when"
And I'm sitting here alone, with my photos on the bed
Of everyone I've been, I can go there in my head

And I wanna know, you wanna know
We all wanna know,
What makes us younger

We held each other close, and pushed the world away
Our love was filled with fear, that dare not speak its name
And there's so much I could do, too much I should be
This moment is a flash, for a picture I can't see

And I wanna know, you wanna know
We all wanna know,
What makes us younger

I stare at every scene, there the rings around the tree
And I've become the proof, I'm more than memory

And I wanna know, you wanna know
And I wanna know, you wanna know
We all wanna know,
What makes us younger

Stand In Awe
(Carabine/ Walther/ MikeRoth)

I stand in awe, as the sun goes down
And I see my days turn to gold
And the moon and I, we are all alone
And she haunts the sky like a ghost

And I stand in awe of the love I've lost
Will you be the one that got away?
I build my house where you'll never go
And I stand in awe of all that could have been

Well the trees know first when the summer's gone

But they're not afraid to let her go
And I can't hide on this empty beach
You should be here but I'm alone

And I stand in awe of the love I've lost
Will you be the one that got away?
I build my house where you'll never go
And I stand in awe of all that could have been
